- Exercise explained in 3rd workshop
- Prepare for 4th or 5th workshop

Objective of the exercise

- Practise presentation skills

Skill Sheets

- 🕒 F section, G section

Exercise

In the 4th or 5th workshop you will give a presentation to your classmates. Your tutor will inform you in which workshop you will do your presentation.

Subject of the presentation

Go through the news items that you have noticed in the last month, and select an item that attracted your interest. As you have learned during the theory of team management, each stakeholder has a different interest in what is happening. Define the different stakeholders and their interests. Reflect on what happened, and how the different stakeholders have influenced the outcome.

Prepare a presentation of at least 4 minutes, in which you:

- present the essence of your news item;
- present the stakeholders and their interests;
- describe what happened, and how the different interests of the stakeholders lead to an outcome.

Support your presentation

You will give the presentation for a small group, but given that you have only 4 minutes it is not to be recommended to make your presentation interactive. You have to prepare a few slides to support your presentation. On these slides you can use text and graphics, as you see fit for your presentation.
